

STAFF PICKS

Beth's Pick

Our Souls at Night – Kent Haruf – F HARU

A bittersweet yet inspiring story of a man & a woman, both having lost their spouses & living alone, who come together to deal with the events in their lives & their hopes for the future. Also a movie starring Robert Redford and Jane Fonda.

Allyson's Pick

The Invisible Library – Genevieve Cogman – YA COGM

Meet Irene, a librarian bound to an interdimensional library who collects obscure works of literature from multiple worlds. She's never had much trouble getting the job done but then Kai is assigned as her junior. He's not what you might think & trouble seems to find him anywhere he goes. Librarians, Faes, & Dragons - oh my!

Heidi's Pick

Heartless – Marissa Meyer – YA MEYE

This captivating tale of Cath tells of her many adventures in Wonderland. From young love & secrets to dangerous monsters, we come to understand how Cath became the feared & imperious Queen of Hearts.

Liz's Pick

The Giver – Lois Lowry – YA LOWR

The Giver is a book that I re-read constantly. It follows a boy named Jonas who lives in a so-called "perfect" society. After he inherits the position of Receiver of Memory, he finds out the truth about his community.

Rene's Pick

An Unwanted Guest – Shari Lapena – M LAPE

Start with an isolated country inn, then add a power outage from a snowstorm. Soon we discover a dead body, then another. This book has all the ingredients of a thrilling who-done-it, neatly written in the Agatha Christie style. A quick, fun read.

Rebekah's Pick

The Lost for Words Bookshop – Stephanie Butland – F BUTL

Loveday Cardew has the first lines of her favorite novels tattooed on her skin. Her past is a secret even to herself, & she is fiercely loyal to only one person - the bookstore owner who took her in after she shoplifted from him as a teen. But a delivery of three mysterious packages threatens to unbury her past & shake her carefully guarded heart. Set in York, England.

Charlotte's Pick

Our House – Louise Candlish – M CAND

Chilling story of deception, secrets, & lies. Twists & turns & an outcome I didn't see coming. Imagine coming home & finding that another family has moved in & all your belongings are gone - & so it begins.

